Did you know?

Profile: Matiz Gallego seafood is harvested off the coast of Galicia, known for its exceptional seafood. Traditional harvesting methods are used to respect the biological cycles of the species, as well as avoiding harm to other sea creatures.

Once harvested, the seafood is prepared by hand using old master cannery know-how and then packed with the highest quality ingredients to produce a seafood that is moist, tender, and uncommonly flavorful.

Serving Suggestions: All Matiz seafood can be eaten fresh out of the can in salads or sandwiches. Berberechos, or cockles, are served up with a touch of lemon and parsley, making the perfect appetizer.
