Did you know?

Matiz seafood is harvested off the coast of Galicia and in the Eastern Atlantic, known for its exceptional seafood. Traditional harvesting methods are used to respect the biological cycles of the species, as well as avoiding harm to other sea creatures.

Once harvested, the seafood is prepared by hand using old master cannery know-how and then packed with the highest quality ingredients to produce seafood that is moist, tender, and uncommonly flavorful..

Serving Suggestions: All Matiz seafood can be eaten right from the tin in salads or sandwiches. Try the pulpo lightly fried in hot Rey de la Vera Pimentón, olive oil and a touch of lemon. Matiz Sardines and Sardinillas are delicious lightly fried with garlic and parsley. Matiz Organic Mussels pair well sautéed with onions and roasted red peppers, parsley and lemon. Mix up Matiz Bonito Tuna with capers and olive oil and serve on sandwiches, stuffed in piquillo peppers, or in salads.
